Dear Kerry,

Dacro has been manufacturing pressure vessels for the resource industry (including oil and gas, refining, petrochemical, and pulp and paper), both domestically and internationally, since 1974. In this time Dacro has become an industry leader in custom fabrication through the innovative use of leading edge technology and equipment. Dacro has unique capabilities for mechanical design and fabrication of large, complex pressure vessels and related equipment with extensive experience in carbon steel and alloy materials.

We recently implemented Microsoft CRM to support our growing business and to serve our customers better. VOX played a key role in bringing our plans for Microsoft CRM to reality.

We would like to extend our appreciation to VOX and its' employees for their expertise, guidance and commitment through the selection, configuration and deployment of our Microsoft CRM system. VOX and Dacro share a common philosophy regarding the deployment of a solution such as Microsoft CRM in a well-managed, multi-phase approach, and we are very pleased that VOX delivered the first phase on-time and on-budget.

Yours truly,

Scott Ritchie
